DAY 2: NORSE RUINS & SCENIC NATURE HIKE

Today, enjoy exploring Narsarsuaq today, a town located within the eastern settlement of the Greenlandic Norse. Nearby is the Brattahlíð farm of Erik the Red, which was established in 875. Narsarsuaq and its immediate surroundings in Tunulliarfik fjord hold incredible significance to Greenland's history, for the land where Narsarsuaq now stands earned Greenland its name. The Norse Vikings settled in this vicinity many centuries ago and gave Narsarsuaq a name that hints that an Arctic forest covered the large plain. Today, we highly recommend you enjoy a day tour of the area to further explore the beautiful region of south Greenland.
